

MESSAGE FOR THE WORLD

MESSAGE FOR THE WORLD

November 8, 2002

God the Father is asked to please give a message for the world during this time of great trouble and strife—a message that all those who have any interest in spirituality at all could accept and relate to.

Out of My Heart each one is born. Each one is a part of Myself extended forth into creation—extending My Love, extending Joy and Holy Light in all Its purity to bring joy to all that has been created. And each one should bear in mind that the purpose, the natural inclination, for him is to extend this Love, to seek only to recognize that which is pure and holy—that which is Myself in every brother—and looking upon each to desire, for that one whom you see, that he or she would know Me in fullness and would allow Me through him or her to extend My Love without any obstruction into all of creation; for this is surely your purpose—this is what you are here to do. And in beholding those who have, for various reasons, lost the vision of this Light and this Love—who have for some time not experienced the Love—be not shortsighted. Do not look upon that which you behold with your physical eyes or that which you perceive or feel with your earthly being, but look through that mask and see Purity and Holiness, rejoice in It, and rush to embrace It. For as you look beyond the mask, as you look upon that which is True and Holy, first of all, you allow the mask to dissolve for yourself; and then in reaching forth to touch, to embrace, that which is Myself in your brothers—that which is Pure and Holy—you, by choosing to do this, allow the mask they see and perceive to also become thinner and less difficult to penetrate.

Judge not, for you have yourself perhaps at some point in the past also been unable to see, unable to hear, that which is of My Spirit. Look upon your brothers and realize that they are in a process of having the scales lifted from their eyes. Judge not, condemn not, the present state, but rejoice in the process that will lead to their total illumination. Do not give up hope for them, but pray for them. Come before Me and ask that everything possible that could be accepted and helpful to your brothers take place. And in your love for them offer yourselves to be the instruments, the vessels, through which those blessings may flow, through which they receive a touch of My Love and have their hearts lifted up, so that they may receive hope and rejoice that reality is Love and Light and not those things they perceive in fear—those things that have held them in bondage for so long—which have caused so much suffering and frustration, even utter despair. For it is this despair that causes them to lash out, to attempt to achieve their own ideas of what is good, without realizing that their perception is warped—it is darkened—and they do not see truly.

Forgive totally. Look only for Myself there. And pray that your brothers have every opportunity to choose, to choose again—and even once again—for Light and for Love. So are you truly then My children on earth, and so do I have the greatest joy in you. Ask each day that you be reminded to constantly look toward Me, that you not lose sight of My Light, that you not forget My Love—that the forms you see not deceive you and cause you to lose hope. Ask each day.

Pray for yourselves, as well as for your brothers, and know that this is truly your real function on earth and that in taking part in the salvation of your brothers you are truly a son or a daughter of the Most High.

In some writings we are taught that we should only see the Light in others and practice forgiveness and that we should consider aggression and hate of other people—at least that directed toward ourselves personally—as a projection of our own deluded minds. Please address the question as to whether, and if so, when and how, action on the part of society is appropriate to prevent suffering of others at the hands of those so obsessed with hate. For example, it has been suggested that something needed to be done to stop terrorism but that the limited military action by the U.S. government was not an appropriate way. Please address the question as to whether military action, with the attitude of Arjuna, is sometimes appropriate to prevent further and more widespread violence. If so, when? If not so, what would be an effective way of curbing violence that a society on earth at this time, considering the level of spirituality, would be able to carry out?

Every day, all through the day, turn to Me and say, “Dear Father, I desire for myself and my brothers that we know Your Light and Your Love. Make known to me that which is in accordance with Your Will and should be done in this moment.” Do this, realizing that in having love for your brothers there may be times when you might be asked to do things to prevent more suffering. But My dear children, always be careful; always look to Me; always ask that you be led to do what is totally appropriate. For if you allow yourselves to be caught up into the human vibrations of retaliation and revenge, surely you will lose sight of Me, My Light, and My Love. There may be times when the appropriate thing for you to do may not seem totally kind to many of your brothers, but if you are in harmony with My Will and you desire totally to do that which is My Will in extending love to your brothers, and you also surrender yourself completely to Me, then be assured that not only will the actions you take not exceed whatever is appropriate in that moment in order to prevent suffering that is needless, but they will also offer an opportunity to those who are threatening to disrupt society and the harmonious relationship of many of My children with Myself. In some cases it is necessary that this be stopped, but never take it upon yourselves to be the judge of that which is appropriate. Every situation requires that you look to Me and wait for the appropriate answer and the appropriate time. There is no formula that covers every situation except the formula of looking to Me for guidance—and looking into the heart of your brothers, knowing that My Spirit is there and that it is in honor of My Spirit that you do whatever it is you are led to do. And you bless your brothers, even though they may feel that you are hindering or oppressing them. Whatever you are doing is a blessing when you do this.

It has been suggested that the attitude of the U.S. caused the violent actions of mid-eastern cultures, and perhaps that is true in part, but even if the U.S. view were different, would not those who think that their way is the one and only right way still express their hate toward those with a different belief system by committing such acts against them?

Those who have lost their way in the labyrinth of darkness lash out on all sides against those whom they perceive as hindering their view of what is appropriate and right. But do not allow this to make you feel smug and feel that you bear no responsibility—even for their ignorance. Have you every day turned to Me and asked for blessings for all your brothers? Have you done this without fail? If you realize that you perhaps have not done this, then you do bear some responsibility for that which is going on in your world. For it is not just that you send forth a negative vibration—a vibration of hate, or condemnation, or any sort of judgment. There is also a failure to do all that you could possibly do to honor your brothers, to show your appreciation to them, and to offer appreciation to Me that I bless you through them. When you come without any judgment and you ask for blessings for all your brothers every day, then you are fulfilling your function. And you cannot understand how much good that will do—how great the effect will be.

Is there a war between good and evil that we need to participate in—in addition to seeing Truth and practicing forgiveness?

There are times when it is appropriate for you to take actions that will hinder the ruthless and bloody activities of your brothers, but remember always that darkness disappears in the presence of light and that part of your participation is always to ask to be My vessel through which Light flows and Love is extended. Never consider that your part is fulfilled simply in trying to restrain or hinder your brothers. The greater part is extending the Love and shining forth the Light, always seeking to recognize Me in your brothers and giving thanks that you may participate in this way and truly be a child of Mine.

If those who heed the message that has been given here hold that attitude and daily prayer for our brothers, will this have an effect on military decisions made by our government, and will it have effect on decisions to commit acts of terrorism on the part of those who potentially would do so?

It will surely have effects. It may not necessarily totally prevent actions, but imagine: If a thousand people upon the earth would look upon any nation you see as a threat—and the leaders of that nation—and envision Light—My Light—coming into the earth and spreading forth from that place, the effect would be so profound you would be speechless! Forget not, for you have been told, pray for your leaders. Forget not your president and all who are participating in helping him to make his decisions. Always ask that he hear My Will clearly, that he seek to know My Will, and that in whatever action he takes he leave all results to Me, desiring that all upon the earth be blessed. You can truly have tremendous effect on the whole earth if you take this responsibility upon yourself, for it is out of love for yourself and your brothers, as well as love for Me and your Master, that you would decide to do such.

Is your full presence in the earth imminent, or must we wait many more decades, centuries, or millennia?

The Presence is always there. It is the awareness of the Presence that is lacking to some degree. But the awareness has increased over the past decades, and it will be even easier to become aware of these things—this Presence and this Light—as time goes on. For Light is coming into the earth in greater intensity, and it will be more difficult for those who wallow in darkness and turn away from the Light to endure being here.

Closing message:

Rejoice in the Love of the Father. It is the greatest joy you could possibly have. And even when the going gets rough, always remember, it is a privilege for you to be here at this time, and it is not only a responsibility, it is a joy to be a vessel seeking to have your brothers blessed by Me.
